

The D. E. Shaw Group Privacy Policy

Federal legislation requires financial institutions to provide individuals with a statement outlining policies and practices related to the sharing of your nonpublic personal and financial information. The D. E. Shaw group places importance on protecting your privacy.

We receive nonpublic information about you in client documents, subscriber documents, discussions with you, and other materials we receive in the course of our providing services to you. Such nonpublic information includes your name, address, and social security number, and information concerning your assets (such as the amount of your investment).

In order to protect your financial privacy, the D. E. Shaw group has adopted the following policies:

- We do not disclose nonpublic personal information about you, except as permitted by law. For example, we may provide your nonpublic information to our affiliates and to other companies or persons in order to effect, process, or administer your transactions, or to comply with regulatory or legal requirements. We may also provide your nonpublic information to our attorneys, accountants, and auditors. Further, we may provide your nonpublic information to others with your consent or at your direction.
- We may provide your nonpublic information to our affiliates in order to assist in providing services, offering opportunities to you, or otherwise in furtherance of our and our affiliates' businesses.
- We may provide your nonpublic information to non-affiliated companies and financial institutions that perform certain other services on our, or on your, behalf. To the extent required by law, we require these non-affiliated companies and financial institutions to protect the confidentiality of your information and to use such information only for the purposes for which it is disclosed.
- We maintain physical, electronic, and procedural safeguards to protect your nonpublic information, and permit only authorized employees adhering to our confidentiality policy to access that information.

We periodically review and may modify this policy. If we make modifications, we will continue our commitment to keeping your personal information secure. Whenever possible, we will notify you of any changes before they become effective. This policy describes how we will protect and safeguard your personal information now and in the future (including if your relationship with us should end).
